

Afterword

The Albatross would like to thank:

Past editors Alex Coates and Amy Coté.

All the authors who submitted their work.

The peer reviewers and copyeditors who never balked at the tight deadlines.

The editors of The Corvette, On Politics, PLVS VLTRA, and Sophia.

Inba Kehoe at the Mcpherson Library.

The UVSS Course Union Council.

Emma Hamill and everyone with the English Students' Association.

The University of Victoria's English Department and Dr. Iain Higgins.

Dr. Mary Elizabeth Leighton and Dr. Lisa Surridge for their excellent review seminar on copyediting, courtesy of The Victorian Review.

Dr. Luke Carson for his poetry assignment.

Jake Holm and the Inkwell team for a great launch.

Any submissions made by the author to The Albatross are in agreement of release under the Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial 3.0 Unported license. This license permits The Albatross as well as others to share this work through any means for non-commercial purposes, given that proper attribution is given to the author as well as the publisher. Authors retain copyright of their work. By submitting their article to The Albatross, the author grants The Albatross the rights for first publishing. Authors are able to enter into separate, additional contractual arrangements for the non-exclusive distribution of the journal's published version of the work (e.g., post it to an institutional repository or publish it in a book), with an acknowledgement of its initial publication in this journal.